Sub: Govt. Lady Goschen Hospital, Mangalore - Improvements to certain wards - Providing weldmesh screens to the varandahs of Gyneac Antenatal, Antenatal septic and Labour wards -- Coversion of Portico on the eastern side of the old labour ward into an office for Nursing Superintendent--Conversion of the verandah of the Labour Septic ward into a sterilising room.

I am herewith forwarding approximate estimates with necessary plans received from the Executive Engineer, South Kanara Division, Mangalore for the following improvements which are considered necessary for this hospital.

1.2. Providing weldmesh screens for the varandahs of Gyneac, Antenata Antenatal Septic and labour wards.

The bedstrength of this hospital is 160, including beds put on the varandahs of the above wards, but the varandahs are open and unprotected. The proposal is to provide weldmesh screens over the existing parapet walls in the varandahs of these wards to prevent crows entering the wards. Neces sary provision has also been made in the estimate for the construction of dwarf parapet walls wherever necessary. The estimated cost of the work is Rs.9,600/-.

2. Improvements to the Protico of the old labour ward-

At present there is no regular office room for the Nursing Superintendent, and the Nursing Superintendent is given for the time being one of the linen rooms. It is therefore proposed to convert the protico on the eastern side of the old labour ward into an office by enclosing the three sides with masonry walls with necessary panelled windows, as shown in the plan, and by providing cement concrete flooring and painting etc., The cost of the estimate is Rs.1,730/-.

3. Converting the varandah of the labour septic ward into a terilising room.

The proposal is to convert the present labour septic ward into a labour septic theatre and to convert the varandah into a sterlising room by raising the existing parapet walls up to the bressumen and plastering and paintings. Estimated cost Rs.570/-.

I therefore request you to kindly obtain the administration approval of the Government for item No.1 above and accord your administrative approval for items No.2 and 3.
